Crafting Corner

Toilet Paper Roll People

- 1: Collect all of the empty toilet paper rolls in your home.
- 2: Take all of the toilet paper off each roll.
- 3: Get white, brown, or red paper. White is for a snowman, red is for Santa, and brown is for a reindeer.
- 4: Glue or tape the paper on each roll. If you make Santa, you may want to add a beard. Also, if you make the reindeer, add some antlers.
- 5: Add any detail that you want.

Riddle 1: A boy and his dad almost drown, but someone saves them in time. They are sent to two different hospitals. At the boys hospital a doctor asks, "Who is this?" Someone else says, "He's my son." How is this possible?

Riddle 2: What goes up, but never goes down?

Riddle 3: A truck driver is going down a one-way street the wrong way! He passes at least 10 cops. How is he not caught?

Our D.A.R.E Officer

By: Paige Peterson

Hi! I am Paige. I had the chance to interview the D.A.R.E officer, Jake Cutright. I interviewed him on November 24, 2015. He comes to BCE to teach kids how to stay off drugs. "What did you think of the visit to our school?" I say. "I like it because all of the kids are nice and happy to see me," Jake replies. "Here at BCE, we are learning how to make and keep goals. How do you accomplish your goals?" I ask him. "You should set a big goal first." Jake says. "Then set smaller goals to get you to the big goal." "What does being a leader mean to you?" I say. Jake replies, "A leader is someone you can trust and puts the interest of others in front of their own." Also, Jake says to think about your choices and make good decisions. Officer Cutright's favorite color is pink. He loves cheeseburgers, and his favorite sport is basketball. Jake likes Christmas and some of his hobbies are camping and sports. He has four people in his family and one dog. Officer Cutright was born in Salt Lake City but he has lived in Peru, New Zealand, Washington, and Las Vegas. Jake is in charge of seven schools. Thanks Jake for letting me interview you!

Mike: Friend or Foe?

Is Mr. Mike a foe? Of course not! Mike is always nice to us, and he keeps our school beautiful and a safe place. One time I was raising my hand waiting to press the "enter" button for lunch, and he gave me a high five! Since Mike is so good to us, I challenge you to do something nice for him! Like give him a card that's full of joy, or say thank you for everything he does for us. Mike loves and cares for us, and we should do the same for him! I say Mike is a friend.

How to Survive the Holidays

By: Lily Masina

Sometimes people need a break from the holidays. Wait what? A break from the holidays?! What?! Nobody needs a break from holidays unless they're sick of fire works. Or the crowded, stuffy house when the whole family shows up at the same exact time when you have party with your friends.

Okay, I admit it. Some times you do need a break from the holidays. Football? Origami? How about a basketball face off? Hmmm. Maybe going to PetCo adoption day for dogs and cats? Or caroling in the snow? All of these questions are not questions! In fact, they are ways of spending your holiday!

Man! I'm bored right now. But it's a holiday! Well my friend, I have some explicit ideas for you and your family to do. Under my series of activities I have listed, crafts, basketball, football, art, snowball fight, etc. My personal favorite activity is doing a little basketball game and a few rounds of catch with the football. This is the best way to survive from the boredom drama.

One, two, three, four... Hurry! You want to play Hide-And-Seek? Well if you want to be a pro read on! First, Grab a towel, book, flashlight, and food. Take your supplies into an empty bathroom. Turn of the bathroom lights and spread the towel on the floor. Set your food on the towel then sit on the closed toilet seat. Once you hear the searcher pass you then you take out the flashlight. Tada! Now you can read! Caution: If some one really needs to go you should probably come out. (You wouldn't want anybody having an accident on Christmas!)

You want to make things awkward? How about inviting you brother's ex-girlfriend? Boy that would be awk-ward! Or, you can do service while you make things awkward. Like signing your family up for a hobo at dinner. Ha ha. Invite some body weird like, One Direction or Justin Bieber.

This is how you survive the holidays. By, knowing how to entertain yourself. Or, how to be a professional at hide and seek. Then last, how to make things awkward. Finally, you have finished your training of survival skills. See you next time on how to... oh wait I can't tell you!

What is it like to be a Kindergartener? By: Ashlyne Malovich

If you're like me, you probably want to go back to kindergarten again. Well I went to Mrs. Taft's classroom and observed what it's like to be a kindergartener. If you keep reading, you will find out what it is like being a kindergartener again!

What does a kindergarten classroom even look like? It looks just a bit what yours looks like, except everything is more kindergarten-like. It has bright posters and decorations everywhere. There is one thing that surprised me the most, THE TEENY TINY BATHROOMS! They are so small that you could use it in a dollhouse! (They're not that small but THEY ARE SOOOO TINY!) Anyway... The classroom looks awesome!

What are the kids like? These kids are great listeners and they are hilarious! Their teacher was showing them their work and it was a turkey activity. I heard one of the kids say, "THE TURKEY IS FAT!!", and after the kid was done with the work, he started to dance around! I also heard some of them talking about a T.V. show called "Go Diego Go". I used to watch that...

I loved being a kindergartner again. I want to go back after watching these little kids do their kindergarten stuff! Now that you know what it's like, you probably want to go back too. I'd like to learn shapes, numbers and the alphabet just one more time! (Maybe even more!)
